Mulieres Clear Over $1000 for Fire Company

A sum in the neighborhood of $1200 was cleared by the Mulieres at the Carnival given on October 23 and 24 for the benefit of the Narberth Fire Company. Mrs. Eberhardt Mueller, president of the organization, announced this week.

The regular monthly meetings of the Mulieres have been resumed and a meeting for the election of officers for the coming year will be held Monday afternoon at 2:15 in Elm Hall. Formed one year ago with 18 members, the organization now includes 148 women.

United Campaign Opens Drive Monday

Volunteer Workers Enlisted to Cover the Entire Borough.

WORKERS MEET TODAY

The United Campaign drive, the concerted effort of the Committee for Unemployment Relief, the Welfare Federation and the Federation of Jewish Charities to raise $9,000,000, will start on Monday.

Narberth is proud of the opportunity to participate in the effort to reach this goal and has a group of volunteers enlisted. The town is divided into sections, the south side to be covered by Mrs. H. R. Rinehart, captain, with the following workers: Mrs. J. E. Wetzel, Miss Edna Wetzel, Mrs. H. D. Simpson, Mrs. R. R. Howenstein, Mrs. G. B. Suplee, Miss Ruth Suplee, Miss Lois Caldwell, Mrs. F. C. Stiefel, Mrs. H. L. Woehling, Miss Jean Woehling, Mrs. S. H. Stringfield, Jr., and Miss Lois Rinehart.

The north side has Mrs. G. F. Baer as captain and the workers under her are Mrs. J. F. Palmer, Mrs. R. J. Dothard, Mrs. A. M. Tapp, Mrs. J. B. Austin, Mrs. J. R. Speck, Mrs. William Levis, Mrs. L. Parker Miller, Mrs. J. R. Woodcock, Wharton B. Carroll, Mrs. J. H. Hongler, Mrs. J.

MASS OF CIRCULARS SENT

A councilman in the Borough of Narberth receives no compensation for his labors. He must not only attend the regular meetings, but must serve on one or more committees. He must be a politician, a diplomat and a civic association director, rolled into one, and he must suffer the slings and arrows of outraged citizens as well.

So, when a contest develops for a Council post, the voters must choose between two men battling each other for the honor of laboring for their neighbors. Narberth has few such contests. One was decided last Tuesday.

By a vote of 447 to 395, Clifford W. Bates retained his seat in Council by defeating John A. Mowrer, Jr. Mr. Bates, defeated in the primaries, was forced to sail under the Democratic flag—but then, Narberth never has worshiped orthodox politics.

Edward S. Haws (a genuine Democrat), and William H. Fretz were also re-elected Councilmen.

The Bates-Mowrer contest, which began mildly enough in the early fall, reached its climax last week-end in a barrage of mail to the voters. Mr. Mowrer's name was brought forth before the primaries largely by a group of fellow-members of the American Legion. A resident of Montgomery Avenue, universally popular, and en-

Plan Luncheon-Bridge to Aid Health Center

Affair Will Be Held Tuesday, the 10th, at Community Building.

CLOSED ON WEDNESDAY

The Narberth Child Health Center will not be open next week, due to Wednesday being a holiday. It will be open as usual, however, the following Wednesday, November 18th.

As the funds of the Health Center are temporarily not available, and since money is necessary to carry on the work, a benefit for the cause is scheduled for next Tuesday, November 10th, in the form of a luncheon-bridge. It will be held in the Community Building on Windsor Avenue. The party is being given by the Welfare and Civic departments of the Woman's Community Club. As the very nominal fee of fifty cents includes everything the occasion affords, a large attendance is anticipated. Mrs. J. R. Aiken and Mrs. C. Arley Farmer, or any member of their committees, will accept reservations.

The growth of the Center is vividly shown by comparing the attendance figures for October a year ago with those for the past month. In October, 1930, the attendance was 54, while this year it was 172 for the month. The Center has been open each Wednesday throughout the past summer and will continue during the winter at the same place, which is the first-floor room at the rear of Elm Hall.

Noted War Worker, Dr. J. C. Miller, to Speak at Post's Armistice Day Banquet

Harvey Harman and Dean Laird of Penn, Among Other Speakers.

IS WEDNESDAY AT SEVEN

Members and guests of the Harold D. Speakman Post, American Legion in Narberth, will hear a group of distinguished speakers at the annual Armistice Day dinner, which will be served in the Legion club room in the Community Building on Wednesday evening, November 11, at 7 o'clock.

The chief speaker will be Dr. J. C. Miller, who organized the vocational rehabilitation work for the United States Government after the World War. Dr. Miller, at that time a Canadian citizen, was asked by the American government to break the ground for the enormous task of fitting the war disabled into the economic scheme by training in a field of occupation for which they were fitted. This important work led to the organization of what was then known as the Federal Board for Vocational Training. Out of the Federal Board has grown the gigantic Veterans' Bureau which today administers the affairs of the veterans of all wars.

Dr. Miller's subject will be "Safeguarding Our Internal Frontier." Few men in his field have had a more varied, interesting and useful career than that of Dr. Miller, who is now Professor of Educational Administration at the University of Pennsylvania. He has worked in many fields in the crafts and manual arts, as well as holding the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from Columbia University. He has worked, studied, taught and directed educational projects in several parts of Canada, in California, Indiana, New York and Pennsylvania. He is the author of four volumes of technical importance and of numerous reports to the Governments of the United States and the Dominion of

Armistice Day Community Service at Theatre Sunday

A community service in celebration of Armistice Day (next Wednesday, the eleventh) will be held this Sunday in the Narberth Theatre at 7:45 P. M. Sponsored by the committee in charge of community services, of which the Rev. Robert E. Keighton is chairman, it will be the first one of this season.

Last year several interesting speakers were heard during the series of services, and it is expected this year's will be as well worth hearing. Co-operating in the group are the community's Lutheran, Baptist, Methodist and Episcopalian churches, the Merion Friends' Meeting, the Women's Community Club, and the Narberth American Legion, which is in special charge of Sunday's gathering.

Nancy Byrd Turner, Proud of Her Literary Standing at Age of 8, Not So Sure of It Today

Noted Poet Gives a Sketch of Her Life and Reading From Her Poems at Narberth Woman's Club Meeting Tuesday.

Nancy Byrd Turner, well-known poet and editor, gave an interesting biographical sketch of her life and read a number of her delightful poems at the meeting of the Women's Community Club of Narberth held in the Girl Scout wing of the Community Building on Tuesday afternoon.

"At the age of 8," said Miss Turner, "my father, who was an Episcopal clergyman, discovered that I could write poems. To encourage me in this art, he offered me ten cents a poem. Therefore I wrote poems about my sister, stern grandfather and also on Life, Death and Eternity. At that age, too, I felt that I had quite a high standing in the literary world, but today, having written many poems which have been published, I am not quite so sure about it.

"At the age of 12," the speaker continued, "I wrote a poem about Ruth and her tooth for which I should have received a sound whipping. I really think I wrote the poem because Ruth rhymed with tooth. Most people think the writing of a poem is a simple thing, but it is not; in fact, it is quite a difficult thing to do."

Miss Turner continued writing

Narberth Theatre Notes

The romance of a London working girl (Janet Gaynor) and a brilliant musician (Charles Farrell) forms the theme of "Merely Mary Ann," playing at the Narberth Theatre. The romantic drama, directed by Henry King, who did "Tol'able David," "Lightnin'," etc., is based on the Zangwill play of the same name. It has the sweet appeal of all Gaynor-Farrell films.

Musical settings by Sigmund Romberg, with songs by Oscar Hammerstein, 2nd, feature the pleasing "Children of Dreams" which is coming to Narberth Monday and Tuesday. On Wednesday and Thursday Narberth will play "Side Show," in which Winnie Lightner and Charles Butterworth will clown and Evelyn Knapp will look beautiful; a circus comedy-drama. Very thrilling and well-staged is "Dirigible," coming to Narberth the end of next week; it's a great air picture.

At The Egyptian

Adapted from Sax Rohmer's "Daughter of Fu Manchu," "The Daughter of the Dragon," playing at the Egyptian this Friday and Saturday, has plenty of thrills. Its cast, appropriately enough, includes Anna May Wong, Warner Oland and Sessue Hayakawa—all star performers of the first order.

The much-discussed adaptation by Josef von Sternberg of Theodore Dreiser's novel, "An American Tragedy," is coming to Cynwyd next Monday and Tuesday. Remarkable both for its direction and acting, the picture's cast includes Phillips Holmes, Sylvia Sidney and Frances Dee. Those who have and who have not read the classic book will find the picture worth seeing.

BUSINESS BITS

Anniversary for Theatre

All decorated up is the Narberth Theatre this week, in celebration of its fourth anniversary. Outdoors, flags of many countries make Narberth Avenue more festive; indoors, foliage and other fall decorations have been arranged by Frank O'Brien, Mr. Fried's assistant. And the exceptionally well-chosen cinemas, which have attracted to the theatre hundreds of outsiders in addition to Narberth's own populace, continue on the programs of the popular little community theatre. For his community spirit and endeavors to secure the best entertainment for his public, Mr. Fried deserves all commendation and support, on the occasion of his fourth anniversary here.

Does advertising pay?—When backed by price and quality appeal, as in the case of the Narberth Pastry Shoppe's pies last week, it paid so well that Mr. and Mrs. Teitz say they could have sold twice as many pumpkin pies as they did, had they been prepared for the rush of orders. Also, they are baking crullers more often, because of the increased demand.

And speaking of bakeries, Narberth is fortunate in having delicious, fresh home-baked goods available daily at White's Sweet Shop and Cotter's Market, in addition to the Narberth Pastry, not to mention the chain store. Plenty of good things to make the preparation of meals easier! It is interesting to note, by the way, that many of Narberth's independent stores—in sweets as well as groceries, etc., are well able to compete with the chain stores on a basis of price as well as quality.

Name Being Sought For "Narberth Players"

Contest Ends Next Friday,
Date of First Play at Elm Hall.

IS MYSTERY THRILLER

The Narberth Players want to be called something besides "The Narberth Players." Dramatically-minded, they are also artistically inclined, and they would like to have a name for their organization which would reveal to the public their intentions—to produce, act and conceive plays, and at the same time sound pleasant to the ear. "The Narberth Players," while serving the purpose for the time, would seem to be a little less original and ingenious than the club members would have it—and so they have placed their problem before you. Won't you respond by submitting your suggestion for a name, and stand the chance of winning $10.00?

The contest ends next Friday, November 13th, for that is when the production, "Bilked," is to be given at Elm Hall at 8:30 P. M. If you are a subscriber to the Players Club you have already received your two tickets of admission to this play. If you are not a subscriber, now is the time to become one by applying to the treasurer, Mrs. J. D. Sutherland, 444 Woodbine Avenue, Narberth, who will send you a subscription membership upon receipt of your check for $2.50. This entitles you to participation in any club activities and gives you two tickets to each of the three plays the club will present throughout the year. Single admissions to the play may be bought for 60 cents apiece, but you can see the advantage of becoming a subscriber, when for $2.50 you receive a total of six tickets through the season, as well as membership in the club—which, by the way, entitles you to some very enjoyable club meetings of a social as well as a dramatic nature.

Remember these points, slip your name suggestion into the boxes placed in any Narberth merchant's store, or send it direct to Contest Editor, Narberth Players Club, and be at Elm Hall on November 13th to see whether you have won $10.00. If you win the award and are not present at Elm Hall, the night of the production the prize is reduced to $5.00. It pays to be there! Remember also that the name of the play, "Bilked," does not begin to tell you the excitement and thrills to be had from seeing it. "Who killed Gaylord Andrews?" is the important question, and as the play unravels you will sit breathless while you learn the answer. Join now, or at least get a single admission ticket to warrant your presence at Elm Hall on Friday the 13th—Mystery Night!

Camp Site in Penn Valley for Local Scout Troops Aim of Rotary-Scout Committee

Creation of a camp for boys, conveniently near this section, may soon be accomplished as a result of action taken by the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club in a suggestion made recently by Frank H. Seely, Jr., scoutmaster of Cynwyd Troop 2, Boy Scouts of America.

A committee headed by Ralph S. Dunne, president of the club, and Dr. William S. Howard, chairman of Rotary's Boy's Work Committee, called a meeting recently of scoutmasters of troops in Bala-Cynwyd, Narberth, Merion and Wynnewood. They included Mr. Seely, Allen Smith, of Bala Troop 1; J. Alden Tift, of Merion; George Schroder, of Narberth, and Jack Foster, Walter Fox and the Rev. Edward J. Bubb, of Wynnewood's Pine Tree Troop.

Messrs. Seely, Howard and Dunne were designated to view a property last Sunday afternoon to determine its suitability for the following purpose:

Township Saved Embarrassment by Young's Defeat

The outstanding feature of Tuesday's election in Lower Merion was the unanticipated and unorthodox contest which developed for the office of Township Commissioner in the General Wayne district.

Due to a wag's prank at the primaries in September, the name of "Lew" Young was written on the ballot as a Democratic nominee for the post held by Frank H. Mancill, Republican, who was unopposed for re-nomination.

In accordance with the election laws of the county, the name "Lew" Young appeared on the ballot this week as a Democratic nominee for Township Commissioner.

Despite the fact that Louis Alonzo Young, a resident of Narberth, had sought the Republican nomination for County Commissioner at the primaries, 40 Democratic voters in the General Wayne district saw fit to make him their candidate for the Township Commission. Mr. Mancill won the "contest" by a safe margin, polling 161 votes, but the followers of political fortunes are still wondering what would have happened should Mr. Young have won.

It is agreed that the township has been saved from an embarrassing situation by his defeat. The fact that his name was erroneously printed on the ballot would have been sufficient, it is said, to nullify his election. And, in addition, being a resident of the Borough of Narberth, he would not be eligible anyway to represent the General Wayne district on the Lower Merion Commission.

Classes to Be Formed at Women's Meeting Monday

Every woman in Narberth is invited to attend a meeting in the Girl Scout Wing of the Community Building at two o'clock on Monday afternoon sponsored by the Women's Committees of the various organizations of the Community. Classes will be formed in American Citizenship, International Relations, Patriotic Education, Motion Pictures, and also a committee for the promoting of a comprehensive program for the coming George Washington Bicentennial Celebration to take place in February, for all the schools, churches and other organizations. Come on time and bring a pencil. Among those who will attend are Mrs. Samuel McCartney, President of the P. T. A. of Narberth; Mrs. J. A. Hongler, President of the Women's Community Club, Mrs. Hugh Glenn Martin, of the Dr. Benjamin Rush Chapter, D. A. R.; the Auxiliary of the Harold D. Speakman Post and many others.

Only unmarried women have optimistic views of wedded bliss.

The need has been felt for some time by Boy Scouts to gain actual experience in outdoors scoutcraft, throughout the year, in addition to the Camp Delmont activities, which are limited to a brief portion of the summer. If the camp materializes, the boys will be given valuable training in the open.

Expect Paving to Be Finished in Two Weeks

Work on the repaving of Haverford Avenue, between Narberth and Essex Avenues, began on Tuesday. Plans for this and the repaving of Windsor Avenue from Wynnewood Road to Conway Avenue have been approved by the State Highway Department.

Nine additional laborers were employed by the Borough for the project this week, and nine others will be hired next week, the two groups being alternated to provide partial employment for more men.

It is expected that the Haverford Avenue improvement will be completed within two weeks and the whole job in a month.

The expense of approximately $6000 is being borne equally by the Borough and the County, in accordance with a move by the County to alleviate unemployment by providing funds for road work.

Gains Rectorship

The Rev. Edward J. Bubb, of Ardmore, who has been assistant to the Rev. Gibson Bell at All Saints Church, Wynnewood, will leave November 29 to become rector at Grace Church, Jersey City.

French Club Presents Play

In the last meeting of the French Club, held in the auditorium, a play, "Par un jour de Pluie," was presented by some of the members. A comic sketch presented entirely in French, the play made quite a hit. Robert Braid and Tom Bevan played the parts of Raoul and Gontran, the male leads, while Enid Byden, in her impersonation of Blanche, played the female role. Embury Rucker played the domestique, Joseph, and Lois Rinehart was the "femme-de-chambre," Adele. The play was directed by Dolly Diehl, president of the club, who was assisted by Freda Millar.

The Senior High School Parents' Night will be presented on the evening of November 10 in the auditorium, in the form of a play entitled "Drums of Oude," written by Austin Strong. The members of "Showpeople" who will give this one-act play are as follows: Captain Hector McGregor, Crozier Ludlow; Lieutenant Alan Hartley, Bill Ferguson; Sergeant MacDougal, Bill White; Stewart, the sentry, James Selby; two Hindustani servants, Tom Bevan and Bill Aurand; Mrs. Jack Clayton, Hartley's sister, Arlene Dill; and a private, Robert Deckerhoff.

A Senior Class meeting was held Monday in Activity Period. At this time plans for the Annual Year Book were announced, and a committee appointed to arrange for the taking of photographs. This committee consisted by Harry Essley, David Wilson and Bill Macan. It was also announced that the pictures would be taken in time so that any orders might be filled by Christmas.

Another interesting point brought out by Mr. Paul Keever, faculty sponsor of the Senior Class, was concerning the Washington trip. Heretofore taken by the Senior Class after the close of school, the trip will be taken while Washington is at its prettiest, in cherry blossom time. Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 18, 19 and 20 are the dates chosen. At the thought of the trip and the thought of missing several days of school, the class was long and violent in its applause.

The Tuesday Activity Period was taken with an assembly for the cause of the "Merionite," the school paper. It was reported that, after two campaigns, the paper still was not able to be printed on account of lack of funds, and a plea was made by Mr. Gilbert and the business manager of the paper for the few needed subscriptions. Within fifteen minutes after the close of assembly, enough subscriptions were obtained to warrant an announcement to the effect that there will be "A Merionite."

Many Parents Attend Gavel Day Exercises

Over four hundred parents and friends of the student body of Lower Merion Junior High School attended the Gavel Day exercises last Tuesday morning in the school's auditorium.

John Byrd was admitted to office as the President of the Student Body of the school. His associates for the coming year are: Joy Grubbs, vice-president; Elfrieda Mahler, secretary; Bob Miller, treasurer, and Jefferson Smith, sergeant-at-arms.

Forty-two members of the school senate were given the oath of office and officially started on their duties.

Musical numbers were given by the Junior High School choir and orchestra. Superintendent S. Edgar Downs spoke to the audience on the early life of William Penn and his leadership in the early Colonial days. Principal Edward S. Snow welcomed the visitors and described what the Junior High School is trying to do for the boys and girls in their early high school education.

A fine lunch was prepared for the guests in the school cafeteria.

Between saying and doing many a pair of shoes is worn out. Even some awkward people grow old gracefully.

The Legion Carries On

Armistice Day celebrates the victorious conclusion, for us, of the greatest conflict in history. The war taught some valuable lessons. Perhaps the greatest were the value of high morale in times of stress and a spirit of co-operation when the going was hardest. This year the day finds many of us tempted to lose a part of that fine courage which is a national characteristic. Reverses have come to all of us in some form or another. But it now becomes clearer with each passing day that we shall win out in the economic struggle, as we won in the test of the war. What is needed now is to draw on the reserves of courage and determination and to stand by till we have won through!

It is appropriate and inspiring to learn that the American Legion will "Carry On" in its tradition of celebrating the day with a community dinner, dedicated to the men of the borough, despite, and even perhaps, because of, the discouragements and difficulties in the path of such an undertaking at the present time. The dinner becomes a symbol of defiance to depression and of determination to see it through! It deserves the support of the community, for the community will benefit by the improved morale the occasion will engender.

Relief on Winged Feet

Despite the fact that many citizens are less able to contribute to relief work this year than heretofore, the need is greater than ever and must be met.

On Monday workers for the United Welfare Campaign will commence their labors on the Main Line and Bala-Cynwyd as elsewhere throughout the city and suburbs.

Residents of the section should bear in mind that the three major relief organizations of Philadelphia, the Welfare Federation, the Jewish Charities, and the Lloyd Committee for Unemployment are all pooling their efforts so that there will be but one drive instead of three.

Assurance has been given by the Allocation Committee of the Campaign that funds will be equitably allotted for local relief. The Main Line Emergency Committee in turn will allocate funds turned over to it to the four recognized relief agencies of the section—the Main Line Federation of Churches, the Neighborhood League of Wayne, the Paoli Red Cross, and the Bala-Cynwyd Community Social Service League.

No money raised in the campaign will be retained by the Main Line Emergency Committee for overhead expenses of its employment office. It will all go directly for relief purposes.

The need of our unemployed is acute and cannot wait upon that revival we know the future holds. The elemental need of food, clothing, shelter and warmth does not brook delay. Relief that moves on winged feet is relief indeed.

Standing on Our Own Feet

When profits dwindle, courage fades, and fear rules instead of courage, two cries are heard throughout the land. One is "There ought to be a law"; the other: "Let Uncle Sam do it."

Compared with past days of ignorance, privation and danger, we are indeed living in a prosperous age. Most of us are employed even today, and most of us have pretty nearly everything in the way of comforts and necessities. When difficulties arise, is it not an odd phenomenon to see millions of people looking to Washington?

The moment we confess failure in our own enterprises and cry for Federal action, we are taking a step away from individual effort and toward socialism. If we believe in the socialistic doctrines, and many do, such a course is justified, but if we believe in individual effort and personal enterprise, it is a different story.

Every time the Federal Government takes over some function formerly performed by a private citizen a powerful competitor is created—a competitor financed by taxes and protected by political power.

We all have watched the failure of socialistic plans applied to farm problems. It is a conspicuous matter, constantly in the public eye. How many have noted the growth of Governmental competition in other lines of trade?

Ford Dealers Offer Share of Sales to Relief Fund

To aid the Welfare Federation and associated agencies for relief, the Richards-Fisher Company, Ford dealers in Cynwyd, are offering a percentage of their sales from November 9 to December 15 to the United Campaign. The following announcement is made by W. B. Richards, who in addition to being in partnership with Harry H. Fisher is also head of Bala-Cynwyd's drive for the United Campaign:

"In order to do our part in the United Campaign for the relief of the helpless and needy, we are pledging the following:

"Ten per cent. of the sales price on new cars or trucks where there is no trade-in.

"Ten per cent. of the sales price on any used cars or trucks where there is no trade-in.

"And one per cent. of our gross sales, exclusive of new or used cars or trucks—this includes all parts sales, service sales and accessory sales.

"The proceeds will be turned over to the United Campaign, for its distribution, and will be mailed as soon as the purchases are completed, and credited to the purchasers if desired."

Hear Financial Reports at Special Council Meeting

A special meeting of Council was held last Thursday night to hear reports on the financial condition of the Borough.

The Borough Treasurer stated that more money was owed the Merion Title and Trust Company in loans than the Borough had on deposit there. It was reported that the Tax Collector had $18,000 in tax money available on deposit in another bank which had not been turned over to the Treasurer.

Authorization was also given the Borough Treasurer to open accounts in the name of the Borough at the Narberth National Bank and at the Philadelphia National Bank.

Schrepfer to Speak

Frank A. Schrepfer, of Narberth, past commander of the Harold D. Speakman Post, will speak at a joint meeting of the Jewish Women's League at Rodeph Shalom Temple, Philadelphia, on Sunday evening on the "Price of Peace."

On Monday, Mr. Schrepfer will address a joint meeting of the Rotary Club and American Legion at East Greensburg, Pa.

He will also be the speaker on Tuesday at a banquet to be given by the James J. Barry Post, American Legion, of Philadelphia, to German war veterans who are residing in the city. Mr. Schrepfer will make the address in German and take a German veteran as a guest.

Speaks on University Work

Incidents connected with his work as head of the Christian Association of the University of Pennsylvania made up the talk Monday night of Frederick B. Igler. Mr. Igler spoke before the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club.

The purposes of a college education, and the phases of college life which tend to mold character were emphasized. Mr. Igler told of the contribution of the college experience to the store of memories of the student in after life.

He told of college careers which had led only to shame in later years, and contrasted these with stories of men who had used the four years for the creation of friendships and the building of character.

Foreign Rates Higher

Narberth Post Office authorities call attention to the fact that postage rates to England, Ireland and Scotland and to Canada have been increased. The rates now in effect are: 5 cents for the first ounce to England, Ireland and Scotland, and 3 cents for each additional ounce and 3 cents per ounce to Canada.

Are You Satisfied?

In these days of keen competition and Twentieth Century selling methods, we must be sure that our customers are satisfied. Price is important, of course, but quality is remembered long after price is forgotten. Armistice Day

'Tis thirteen years ago today
We heard the welcome sound,
The news that peace had been declared
Was swept the world around.

We wondered if the blessed news
Could really be quite true.
We were so very happy
We scarce knew what to do.

We laughed and how we shouted,
Our cheeks with tears were wet.
We could not quite believe it
That peace had come just yet.

Our doubts at last were all removed,
The news indeed was true.
We waved our flags triumphantly,
Our flags, red, white and blue.

We kissed and hugged each other,
For years we had been sad.
How we rejoiced together,
For all the world was glad.

Our joy is not forgotten,
Nor what the great war cost.
The grief and anguish suffered
And the many lives thus lost.

And at eleven o'clock today
We reverently will pause,
And offer silent prayer for those
Who suffered for the cause.

And as we listen to the bells
As they shall ring today,
We'll pray that war will come no more.
But peace will have full sway.

That right, not might shall conquer,
And reason rule the day,
That weapons made for warfare
Shall not be used to slay.

MARGARET L. GRIFFITH.

Here's a Line-up That's a Knockout

With a football team that has the passes, trick plays and teamwork, there's a winning day ahead! And with a girl that has chic, assurance and pep — that means a double victory for her side that day! And no wonder she can pile up a lot of extra points for herself in one of these outfits. From the good old favorite — the raccoon coat — right down to the latest thing in a wide wale corduroy suit from a Bruyere model, or a smart fur-trimmed wool dress that's dressy enough for dancing after the game—it's a perfect lineup.

Wool crepe dress, fur-trimmed, three quarter sleeve. Misses' sizes. Gold, blue, red, Persian green. $15.00

Raccoon coat, lined either with kasha or satin and kasha. $185.00

Nancy Byrd Turner Gives Sketch of Her Life, Reading

poems and at eighteen had some of her love sonnets published in the Smart Set, which at that time was considered a rather risqué magazine. Her father, being very proud of her talent, would treasure these copies of Smart Set, and when leaving on a parochial visit would put one in his suitcase, being perfectly innocent as to the character of the magazine. Miss Turner would take it out of his suitcase, fearing that some of his reverent friends would be shocked.

She has written numbers of children's poems for Youth's Companion and has edited its children's page. In writing poetry for children she has found that most like short verses with a kick in at the end of them. Among these which she read were the "Orange and Bana Way of Dressing," "Contrary Mary," "Trundle Bed Trash" and a number of others.

While at the Peterborough Colony, which, according to Miss Turner, is the paradise of writers who seek seclusion and quiet, she wrote many poems. This group was about the perished little animals and which she calls "The Epitaphs from a Country Dooryard." While in Boston, Miss Turner had a great longing to go to England which she finally accomplished. There she wrote a group of English poems, including: "When I Go Down to London." Her favorite poem, "A Staring Infant in a Perambulator," was also written during her stay in England. Miss Turner, who spent her early days in the South, has written a book of darkie poems in dialect. From this group she read the "Black Cat," "Ole Miss Pole Cat" and "Black Boy Hosey." She also read her "Soliloquy of a Pekingese Dog."

W. James Drennan, principal of the Narberth School, was the soloist and charmed the members with his brilliant playing of Chopin's "Polonaise" and Kreisler's "Old Refrain." Preceding the program there was a short business meeting. Mrs. Joseph H. Hongler, president, was in the chair.

J. Prentiss Murphy, of Wayne, gave a short talk on the coming United Campaign, and made a plea for funds for the Welfare Federation, the Unemployment Fund and the Jewish Welfare drive.

Mrs. Clifford W. Bates and Mrs. Emma Kent were at the tea table. Mrs. Caryl E. Starr, chairman of Literature, was in charge of the program.

On Tuesday morning at 10:30 there will be a meeting of the Board of Directors at the home of Mrs. Joseph A. Hongler on Merion Avenue.

The next regular meeting of the club will be on November 17 in the Girl Scout wing of the Community House. The program will be in charge of the music chairman, Mrs. W. J. Drennan. There will be an instrumental trio and also Dorothy Johnstone Baseler, harpist.

Card Party and Fashion Show Planned Monday

The Past Presidents' Club of Montgomery County are giving a card party with prizes for each table, and a fashion show to be held at the Hannah Penn House, on Monday at 2:30 for the benefit of the Scholarship Fund sponsored by the Montgomery County Federation of Women's Clubs. This scholarship is awarded to a girl who is a resident of Montgomery County.

The fashion show is being given by the John Wanamaker Store in Philadelphia and will include the display of all the latest models. Mrs. Goodwyn M. Davis is the president of the Past Presidents' Clubs. Tickets, at $1 each, may be secured from any of the following members of the club in Narberth: Mrs. H. A. Jacobs, Mrs. C. Arley Farmer, Mrs. W. Russell Green, Mrs. E. C. Batchelor, of Narberth, is chairman of the Scholarship Fund of Montgomery County.

Readers to Meet Monday

The Reading Class of the Women's Community Club of Narberth will hold a meeting on Monday afternoon at 1:30 instead of on Tuesday as previously announced, at the home of Mrs. Clifford W. Bates, 403 North Narberth Avenue. Mrs. Caryl E. Starr, chairman of the Literature Committee, will review "Years of Grace."

Luncheon-Bridge Tuesday

A luncheon-bridge will be given by the Welfare, Civic and American Home Committees of the Women's Community Club of Narberth on Tuesday at 1 o'clock at the Community House. Reservations may be made through the chairmen, Mrs. Joseph R. Aiken, Mrs. C. Arley Farmer and Mrs. William J. Loughlin.

Plan Card Party the Twentieth

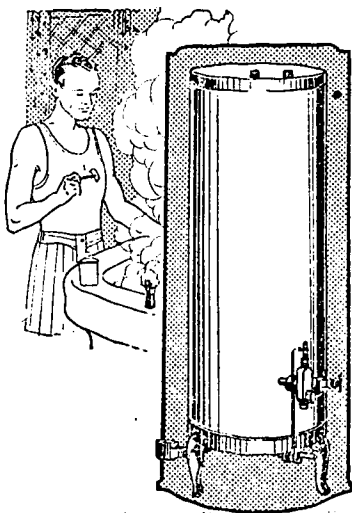

The Fellowship Committee of the Women's Community Club of Narberth will give a card party at the home of Mrs. James B. Smith, 110 Avon Road, on Friday afternoon, November 20, at 2:30. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Smith, Narberth 3903. Mrs. Joseph H. Miller is chairman of the Fellowship Committee.

To Entertain New Members

A tea for the new members of the Women's Community Club of Narberth and a number of new neighbors in the community will be given in the Girl Scout wing of the Community Building on Friday afternoon, November 20. Mrs. J. D. Sutherland, chairman of the Membership Committee, will be assisted in receiving by Mrs. Edward Larney.

Steffens' Autobiography Is Fascinating Volume

Lincoln Steffens is undoubtedly much more agreeable to read than to know personally, although that is not implying that he does not have hosts of loyal friends and personal admirers. It is merely the inference which is drawn by this reviewer from reading his autobiography which is now available on the shelves of the Narberth Community Library. It is a book that will appeal strongly not only to those who enjoy all biography but especially to those who wish to know the background of the stupendous events which have been shaking the world since 1914. Steffens was in the middle of most of those events; he came into personal contact with a surprising number of the leading actors and his views and conclusions are always interesting and usually significant.

Some people will recall the "muckraking" period of the early years of this century when many of the magazines, led by McClure's, devoted much space to the exposure of political corruption in important cities and states. It was as one of the first muckrakers that Steffens' name first became nationally known and since the close of that time he has been little heard of by the general public. It will surprise people therefore to know that as a sort of free-lance reporter and publicist he was in the midst of the Madero-Carranza revolution in Mexico, the revolution in Russia, at the peace conference in Paris and at many of the important gatherings of statesmen and international politicians since then.

The significance of Steffens' career and therefore the interest in his autobiography lies in the events and men concerning whom he is able to narrate first-hand impressions. It seems in reading the first half of his book that he has a deliberate tendency to belittle all men of worthy repute and surviving reputation, like President Roosevelt and Jacob Riis, for example, and to dignify many men whose evil reputations live after them, like Richard Croker and other political bosses. His theory is that American political bosses were usually men of keen intelligence and bold, resourceful action and that therefore they commanded his respect always, and sometimes his admiration. He came to hold in light regard the value of the efforts of well-wishing political reformers among whom he was himself prominently enrolled for many years.

The latter half of his autobiography gets into a deeper swing, and is much more interesting. It finally reveals a man whom Steffens does not belittle although he was considered great and honorable by his contemporaries—President Wilson. Steffens thinks that Wilson failed, but that it was a magnificent failure, that he was the greatest liberal of his time and that no other liberal then living could have done better nor, probably, so well.

The final chapters which compare Soviet Russia and Machinized America and venture to predict the future course of each are much worth reading. Those are the only two nations having a vital significance in the world today, he thinks, and he advances to the interesting prediction that, although their present aims, policies and methods are surprisingly different, they will ultimately come to the same social and governmental state because their roads will meet. Patrons of the library will find that to devote some of the lengthening evenings of this descending autumn to Lincoln Steffens and his book will be much worth while, even though he should shock some of their fixed sensibilities of what is right and what is wrong in the conduct of a government.

Civilized people are those who have no dreadful enemies except disease germs and one another.

Camels Increase Lead, Beating Pilots 2 Out of 3

The Camels easily defeated the Pilots in the first two games in their match in the Inter-Church Bowling League last Friday but lost the last game by three pins. They gained two points, however, as the Battlers lost two games to the Pep Boys. Nicholson, of the Boosters, and Humphries, of the Lions, were the topnotchers as they both averaged over 200 for their three games.

Corrects Misstatement

To the Editor of "Our Town":
In your October 16 issue you published a letter from me concerning the election of Mr. Bates to Council. This letter discussed the zoning ordinance and was afterward reprinted and mailed to all voters in the borough.

While the statements in this letter were made in good faith there was one detail upon which my information was incorrect. I stated that a petition brought before Council for Windsor Avenue contained the names of persons who were tenants rather than property owners, although some Windsor Avenue property owners were included.

Upon publication of the letter Mrs.

E. C. Town telephoned me calling my attention to the error of this statement. I told Mrs. Town that I would gladly correct any misstatement if she would confirm in writing her telephone call so that further possibility of error be guarded against.

Unfortunately Mrs. Town's confirmation reached me on October 31 after the Bates Campaign Committee had circulated a reprint of my letter.

In checking up I find that the petition referred to was signed by twelve persons, each of whom is a property owner. If there was any inference in my letter that this petition asked anything which was in the least unfair it was decidedly unintentional.

Even at this late date I am glad to correct the error in my letter and to express the hope that in spite of its wide circulation no serious injustice was done to anyone. I am really very sorry to have made this mistake.

Very truly yours,
W. A. FOX.

Names in the News

Attend betrothal. Governor and Mrs. Franklin Delano Roosevelt, of New York, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Dooner, of "Camp Woods," Villanova, last Saturday night when the engagement of Miss Elizabeth Browning Dooner and Elliot Roosevelt, the Governor's second son, was announced. The Governor's party motored from New York, arriving here, escorted by State Police, about 7 P. M.

Has new posts. Samuel Taylor Bodine, of Villanova, chairman of the Board of the U. G. I., was last Saturday elected to the boards of the Susquehanna Power Company, the Susquehanna Electric Company, and the Philadelphia Electric Power Company, all subsidiaries of the Philadelphia Electric Company. He succeeds Charles E. Ingersoll, who resigned the positions.

Named trustee. Miss Mary C. Clair was elected to fill a vacancy on the Board of Trustees of Rosemont College at the annual meeting of the board last week. Cardinal Dougherty presided over the meeting and later addressed the student body.

Licensed as pharmacist. Ned Fulton Shope, of Bala-Cynwyd, was one of seventy-two persons in the Philadelphia metropolitan area licensed as pharmacists, having passed the examinations held last June, it was announced this week by the Department of Public Instruction at Harrisburg.

Left. By Michael J. Duffy, slain Philadelphia racketeer, an estate of $6000 to his wife, Mrs. Edith S. Duffy, who lives on City Line, Overbrook Hills.

Receives appointment. Thomas J. Curtin, of Overbrook, was named this week Assistant United States Attorney for the eastern district of Pennsylvania. He is 32, a Lehigh graduate.

Retired from Pennsy. Clarence S. Jefferis, of Bryn Mawr, a special clerk in the office of the auditor of passenger traffic, was placed this week on the Pennsylvania's pension list, having reached the retiring age of 70 last Thursday. He has a record of 51 years' service with the railroad.

In officers' reserve. Robert Lee Mayer, of South Ardmore, has been appointed by the President a second lieutenant in the Field Artillery branch of the Officers' Reserve Corps, it was announced this week by the War Department.

'Horse Thieves' Anticipating Annual Supper on the 14th

Oyster lovers and old-time residents of the Main Line are looking forward to Saturday, November 14, for that is the date of the ninety-fourth annual "supper" of the Lower Merion Society for the Recovery of Stolen Horses and the Detection of Horse Thieves.

Although it is years since this organization, whose members are familiarly termed "Horse thieves," has had any business to transact such as occupied it in its early days, the old ties and friendships are unimpaired. The organization is one of the oldest of its kind in the country.

As usual the oyster supper will be preceded by a brief business meeting at which election of officers will take place. The present officers are: Luther C. Parsons, of Cynwyd, president for the past fifteen years and a member of the society for forty-eight years; Walter Latch, of Gladwyne, vice president; Richard J. Hamilton, of Ardmore, secretary, and Dr. Herbert R. Arnold, of Ardmore, treasurer.

The principal speaker at the banquet next Saturday will be Judge Harold G. Knight, of the Montgomery County Court. Members of the county judiciary seem to be favored by the "Horse Thieves" as Judge George C. Corson was the principal speaker at last year's banquet.

The affair will be held in the Masonic Hall, Ardmore Avenue, Ardmore, at 6:30 P. M.

In the Theater

At the Hedgerow

Eugene O'Neill's "The Emperor Jones" continues to be one of the most exciting plays in the Hedgerow Theatre repertory at Rose Valley, and the distant drum will beat the warning doom of the black "Emperor" once more next Tuesday night, when the week's program begins. The remainder of the week contains a fine balance of comedy and serious drama with two plays by Lynn Riggs, one from Ibsen, and one by another young American now writing in Hollywood—Perry Ivins.

The first Riggs of the week is on Wednesday night, when his warm comedy, "Roadside," will be given with Cele McLaughlin as the vagabond "Hannie" and Carl Reukauff as the boastful "Texas." The second Riggs, more tragic in mood, is "A Lantern to See By," to be played on Saturday night, with a cast which includes William Price, Joseph Taulane, Miriam Phillips and Dudley Vaughan in the chief roles. Ibsen's "Hedda Gabler" comes on Thursday night, with Dorothy Yockel in the title role, supported by Jasper Deeter, Alfred Rowe, Carl Reukauff and Jean Sweidel.

For Friday night and Saturday afternoon Hedgerow presents "Happy Ending," by Perry Ivins, the new American comedy in the repertory with tragic implications, which finally resolve themselves into a title for the play.

Tonight's show at Hedgerow is Shaw's "Arms and the Man"; tomorrow afternoon's, "The Physician in Spite of Himself," by Moliere; tomorrow night, another Shaw, "Candida."

In Philadelphia

"Cloudy with Showers," at the Chestnut Street Opera House, the second offering of the Professional Players. An impudent and sexy farce by Floyd Dell and Thomas Mitchell with Rachel Hartzell and one of the co-authors in the leading roles.

"Pinafore" and "Trial by Jury" at the Erlanger, a double bill of Gilbert and Sullivan presented by the Civic Light Opera Company. An excellent cast performs with fine spirit. Next week this organization will give the "Mikado."

"Three's a Crowd" at the Garrick. This successful revue is as charming and diverting as in its first appearance in Philadelphia. It will continue next week.

"The Vinegar Tree" at the Forrest. A play which touches the border of farce and of seriousness. Mary Boland gives an excellent performance.

"Strictly Dishonorable," the comedy hit, appears again at the Locust Street Theatre under the auspices of the Locust Players' Guild. Madge Belamy has the title role and gives a good performance though some of the other acting is uneven.

"The Wonder Bar," at the Shubert, last two days for this entertaining Continental musical novelty starring Al Jolson.

As an auspicious beginning to the brilliant season of recitals planned by the Professional Players of Philadelphia they announce the appearance of Miss Angna Enters on Tuesday afternoon, December 1, at the Chestnut Street Opera House for one performance only. She will give a new program of Episodes and Compositions in Dance Form, as she titles her program.

The art of Miss Enters has long been a matter of discussion in print. Suffice it to say that she does, in almost every one of her dances tell a story, to which she brings a forcefulness of projection which can be matched by few theatrical personages of the day. She has absorbed the subtlety, humor, grace, wit and finesse of Continental art and to it has added the freshness, the audacity, originality and the youth of the American of today.

It's only a short cut from the straight and narrow path to the road to ruin.

Man's vanity reaches its height when he attends something on a complimentary ticket.

One thing you can wear year in and year out that is always in good style—and that is a smile.

HARVEY D. NARRIGAN

Harvey D. Narrigan, a resident of Narberth for twenty-five years and a former member and president of the Borough Council, died Tuesday at his home, 101 Woodside Avenue.

Mr. Narrigan, who was 76, had not been well for a few weeks preceding his death which occurred suddenly. Funeral services will be held today from 1908 Diamond Street, Philadelphia.

A member of Council from 1914 till 1921, Mr. Narrigan served as its president in 1914 and 1915. It was largely through his efforts that paving of streets on the south side of the Borough was accomplished.

Mr. Narrigan was engaged in the wholesale tobacco business, as head of Harvey D. Narrigan and Company, at 118 N. 6th Street, Philadelphia. He was a member of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church of Narberth.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Caroline Y. Narrigan, and two sons, Clifford Y. Narrigan, of 505 Haverford Avenue, Narberth, and Harvey E. Narrigan, of Milbourne.

AUGUST CARLSON

Funeral services were held Monday at 10 o'clock for August Carlson, of 8 Schiller Avenue, Narberth, who died last Saturday at the University Hospital at the age of 72. Mr. Carlson, who made his home with his daughter, Mrs. James Campbell, suffered a broken leg from a fall early in October. Pneumonia set in and caused his death.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Campbell, and two sons, Ralph Carlson, of Larchmont, and August Carlson, of the Coatesville Hospital, and three grandchildren. He had lived in Narberth for the past three years.

LAURA IDLER POLLOCK

Funeral services for Mrs. Laura Idler Pollock, of 824 Montgomery Avenue, Narberth, who died last Thursday, were held on Monday. Interment took place in Mount Peace Cemetery. Mrs. Pollock, who was 80, had been an invalid for some time. She had lived in the Borough for ten years and was a member of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church of Narberth.

She is survived by her husband, Charles Pollock, and two daughters, Edith and Laura Pollock, of Montgomery Avenue, Narberth.

The Anthwyn Farms section is captained by Mrs. Edward Heymann and her workers are Mrs. Thomas E. Pillion, Mrs. Fred Evans, Mrs. Walter Tait, Mrs. Wallace Drummy, Mrs. Wayne Lyle, Mrs. F. E. Channess, Mrs. Fred Velsor and Miss Mina Lyle.

The north side of Montgomery Avenue has Mrs. John A. Lafore and Mrs. C. Arly Farmer as captains with workers, Mrs. J. Bruce Byall, Mrs. Harvey Madara, Mrs. Frank B. Allen, Mrs. Jean A. Allen, Mrs. Henry Pfeiffer, Mrs. E. S. Deubler, Miss Helen Lafore and Mrs. P. A. Wales.

A Welfare meeting for all workers will be held today at 2:30 P. M. at the Community House. Speakers, Kenneth L. Pray and Miss Joan Wollaston.

Tea will be served by the chairmen of the Women's Community Club of Narberth, Mrs. Joseph R. Aiken and Mrs. William J. Loughlin.

Membership Drive Planned by Parent-Teacher Group

A meeting of the membership committee of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Narberth Public School was held at the home of Mrs. A. C. Miller, 311 N. Narberth Avenue, on Wednesday afternoon.

An intensive membership drive will be conducted before the next meeting of the P. T. A., November 16th. Personal calls will be made and the association hopes each person will be interested in discussing the work of the organization with those who call upon them.

Plan "Model Meeting"

All young people of Narberth are invited to the meeting of the Narberth Presbyterian C. E. Society meeting to be held this Sunday evening at the church at 6:45. Miss Faith McAuliffe, president of the organization, will lead the discussion on "world peace." A model C. E. meeting is planned in competition with the Hilltop Branch so a large attendance is hoped for. Special music is also planned.

Bates Retains Council Seat, Beating Mowrer

couraged by the younger element of the Borough, he had widespread support, including, before long, a group who want Montgomery Avenue rezoned for business.

With Mr. Bates a stout champion of the residential status quo on the pike, the contest veered away from one of personalities into one of civic opinions. The Mowrer name won the privilege of gracing the Republican ticket by nearly 100 votes. Mr. Bates, meantime, had become the Democratic nominee.

All was quite until October 23, when a letter from Walter A. Fox, printed in "Our Town," extolled the virtues of Mr. Bates as a Councilman, and put the contest on a basis of zoning policy. This letter was not answered by the Mowrer group through the columns of the paper, but the voters received a vigorous and well-written circular through the mails just before election. The next mail brought a postcard signed by Margaret Gutelius Town (wife of Dr. Edwin C. Town) ending: "Be yourself and vote for John Mowrer."

Whether or not the zoning issue was justly brought into the contest is a matter of conjecture. It is also anyone's privilege to guess whether Mr. Bates broke the slate because of that issue, or because of a concerted effort on the part of his friends to reward his service as a Councilman by reelection.

The record shows, however, that Mr. Mowrer carried District 1 (in which the zoning issue is conspicuous, and in which both nominees reside) but lost in the other two districts. The detailed vote follows:

'Time Out'

By TOMMY MACKLIN

Central High School of Philadelphia won her 25th consecutive victory Tuesday afternoon. That fact brings some prestige to the institution, but what of Hobart College of Geneva, N. Y.?

Hobart hasn't won a game in three years. That, gentlemen, is news.

Lest you forget, Episcopal Academy held Haverford School to a 13-to-7 score last week. We thought Episcopal might surprise.

Friends' Central still wins, beating Penn Charter 20 to 0. The Montgomery School boasts a poor-football team, but they have a bunch of game sports. With light material, just barely enough to get an eleven together, they continue in the Inter-Academic League against heavy and skilled opponents, but still they carry on. That's the stuff.

No sympathy is extended to the members of Adam's squad who took too many puffs and lost their rating on the football team for a week. All puffs should be from loss of wind and confined to the football field.

Buck and Talley may be missed, but this column believes the team has too much stuff to let their absence hurt their chances at Norristown.

Predictions for this week: (watch our percentage) Penn versus Notre Dame. We pick Penn.

Villanova vs. Temple. Because both of them stopped Hinkle of Bucknell, we vote one for Villanova.

Lower Merion vs. Norristown. One ballot for Norristown. Two for Lower Merion.

Cornell should win this week. We think they have an off Saturday.

Hobart also rates a win this week.

Georgia vs. New York U. New York City is only a small town, after all. And a Georgia Peach is a Georgia Peach. Eleven votes for Georgia.

We leave the rest of predictions to Lud Wray and Bill Roper. They'll miss the rest of them.

Herby Good has tonsillitis. Football predictionitis gets anyone down.

Herb Thomas' work as quarterback at Abington last week was wonderful. He must carry on and improve in every game though, if the team is to be undefeated in the suburbs. He carries a real weight on his shoulders.

Whole Lower Merion Team Stars in Abington Fray

Coach Adam and his Bulldogs did a wonderful bit of work over at Abington High last Saturday. We interviewed him on the game during a conversation Monday. When asked who was the star of the game, he replied, "Well, the whole team starred. There wasn't any particular boy who stood out during the contest, they all played well. Rinehart and Polilli played a great defensive game in the line, and Buck Ryan, who missed practice all week due to an operation on his leg, found himself in the second half."

Later on Adam admitted that if there was an individual star it was Herb Thomas. The boy from Bala certainly carried the play to the enemy all during the game and outshone Eddie Givens, good as he is.

The team is getting ready for the Norristown game this Saturday, and Mike Locavelli and Steve Hennessey are due to start in the lineup in the places of Harvey Buck and young Sautters.

There is no doubt but that the team will miss Harvey Buck in the game tomorrow, but the team must carry on without him. It places a great burden upon the backfield, and they will have to come through for the team and coach.

Pete Lewis' team is stronger than their scores seem to indicate. The greatest camouflage that any team can throw out is to barely beat a weak team on one Saturday before meeting a strong one the following week. Beware of that Phoenixville camouflage. It is better to be prepared for a hard game and make an easy one out of it than to be in Wisconsin's shoes.

L. M. Junior High Plays at Harrisburg This Friday

Lower Merion Junior High School is sending the football team, drum and bugle corps and their newly uniformed band to Harrisburg this Friday to the game with Edison Junior High School. This is the first football game the team has ever played with Edison and next year the Harrisburg team will come here in a return game.

"Shorty" Miller of Penn State fame is the coach of the Edison Junior High squad, and his team is one of the strongest teams in the State.

The Leopards of Lower Merion have not been defeated or tied this season and the prospects for a fine game are good. Coach Mattis has his boys in the best of condition, and he is depending on Mike Zengle and "Stonewall" Jackson to do most of his ground gaining.

Edison is the only school that ever defeated the Junior High twice in one year in basketball. They turned the trick last season when Coach Fowler lost two of his stars on personal fouls at the beginning of the second half with the local boys seven points to the good.

Parents of some of the pupils are sending their cars to take the boys to the Capital City.

L. M. Girl Play George School Team in Hockey

The varsity girls' hockey team and the second team of the Lower Merion High School played the George School girls' hockey team on Saturday. The results were: Varsity-George School, 1-1, tie; second team-George School, 3-0, in favor of George School.

The members of the varsity and second team entertained the George School team at luncheon at the school.

GRUEN

of unusual distinction

How different are these fine Guild creations from the usual timepiece! A discerning person will see this readily.

Gracefully thin and smartly styled in many new and unique designs, they bear ample evidence of their leadership among watches.

And different in construction, too! Painstakingly fashioned in the Guild workshops by men who can trace their ancestry to the masters of the watchmaking craft of centuries ago. Is it any wonder that we are proud to display these Gruen timepieces — a privilege accorded to only a few of the better jewelry stores in each community.

Come in and see our large assortment. There's a model to suit your taste . . . exactly!

Meet Mr. Adam

(The first of several intimate sketches of successful Suburban school coaches.)

By TOMMY MACKLIN

Albert Adam, coach of the Lower Merion football team, is a hard man to know. He keeps pretty well to himself, and as one southern gentleman remarked, "he's his own row." To know him is to respect him, for he is sincere and earnest in his work, and as honest as a man can be. Football officials hanker to work at Penny-packer Field for they know that Albert Adam does not blame faults of his team to poor officiating.

Adam was born in Hanover, Germany, but came to America while still in his teens. He has had some very interesting experiences. Before coming to this country, he sailed before the mast for a period of two years. His hardy life on the high seas helped to give him the sturdy frame that you see sometimes as he hurries out to the field to look after some injured boy.

He spent four years in Uncle Sam's Army, Artillery Division, Fort McKinley, Maine. After leaving the service he attended Bates College where he graduated in 1919. He taught and coached for one year in high school at Gardner, Maine, and then specialized in coaching at Springfield College, Massachusetts, for two years. He graduated from Springfield in 1922. In 1916, while at Bates he was inter-collegiate wrestling champion of New England, and he captained the football team his senior year. He still wears the watch charm which he won for his championship efforts.

Mr. Adam is married and has three fine children. He owns his own home in South Ardmore.

One of the interesting things I read about him was his work at tackle in the Springfield College-Cornell game in 1921. It was played at Ithaca in a driving snowstorm. George Pfann, present coach of Swarthmore College, was just beginning to make a name for himself that season. Eddie Kay was kept on the bench, because it would not do to risk such a valuable piece of football flesh on such a dangerous field against a small college. "Soldier" Adam, as he was known throughout his college career, played most of that game in the Cornell backfield, according to accounts of the newspapers. He caused Mr. Pfann so much embarrassment that he was far from the flashing back that he was supposed to be. Playing alongside Adam at guard was Roland Macomber now coaching at Cheltenham High School. Cornell won the game, but the Big Red team from Ithaca remembers "Soldier" Adam, to a man.

Adam has the most impressive record of any of the present suburban high school football coaches. His teams at Lower Merion have been consistently successful, and consistently good. He specializes in a strong defense, and there have been few schools ever to score more than one touchdown against his boys in one game. His teams never score heavily, but they always manage to come through with a winning margin. The fact that his cleavens do not run up huge scores is one of the best things that could happen to them. Other teams cannot possibly gauge their real strength, for they score one or two touchdowns against their strongest opponents, and the same number against weak members that other teams have defeated handily.

Adam has had a trying time bringing many of the local followers to see his real worth as a football coach. But they are with him today, for his record upholds him and his teams are the best coached in the suburbs. The boys on his squad respect him highly and follow his instructions to the letter. He is completing his sixth season at Lower Merion this year.

No woman is truly modern unless she has a vanity case, a cigarette case and a divorce case.

Noted Speakers at Post's Armistice Day Banquet

Canada. Many magazine articles by Dr. Miller have appeared in a variety of publications of national scope. At the present time he is president of the Department of Higher Education of the Pennsylvania State Educational Association.

In speaking of the plans made for the dinner, Commander Mowrer said: "We feel that in times of economic as well as in times of political stress, the surest safeguard of the fundamental institutions of a government rests in the enlightened and reasonable judgments of its citizens. Only a well-educated nation can go through national trials with a minimum of difficulty. We have, therefore, decided that this year's Armistice Day program should be dedicated to education, for it is the schools of the country, through a well-trained and educated mass of citizens, that will give us the victory over present conditions as the well-trained troops gave us victory in the World War."

Dean Laird and Harman to Speak

Rounding out the program of speakers there will be short addresses by Warren Powers Laird, Sc. D. of Merion, Dean of the School of Fine Arts at the University of Pennsylvania and one of the foremost figures in American art. He will discuss "Education as a Constructive Force." The modern principle of a well-trained mind in a healthy body will be represented in the person of Harvey J. Harman, football coach of the University of Pennsylvania and a resident of Narberth who will represent the part that physical education and sports play in rounding out the perfect type of citizen.

The Hon. Fletcher W. Stites, of Narberth, will also deliver a short address at the dinner. As in previous years Burgess Henry A. Frye, who is a member of the Legion, will be at the speakers' table and will speak. The Rev. Robert Keighton, chaplain of the Post, will deliver the invocation.

It is expected that a large number of men of Narberth will join with the Legion in celebrating Armistice Day in the manner which has become a tradition in the community. Among those who have already made arrangements to attend are J. L. McCreary, E. C. Griswold, E. P. Dold, Carl Metzger and Carl Metzger, Jr., Roland K. Fleer, J. A. Bailey, Fred Walzer, N. D'Alonzo, Gene Davis, Alex Fitzger-

About Dean Laird

Warren Powers Laird, who will be one of the speakers at the Narberth Legion's Armistice Day banquet next Wednesday, is one of the most distinguished figures in architecture in the world.

He has been head of the Department of Architecture at the University of Pennsylvania since 1891 and Dean of the School of Fine Arts since 1920.

A Fellow of the American Institute of Architects, Dean Laird is also an honorary member of the Societies of Architects of Argentina and Paraguay. In 1927 he served as a delegate for the United States Government at the 3rd Pan-American Congress of Architects in Buenos Aires.

He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi. His home is on Highland Avenue, Merion.

and many others. J. J. Jones, formerly of Narberth and now living on Long Island, N. Y., will be present. Mr. Jones, who is a member of the Narberth Post, was general manager of the H. and H. system of restaurants and stores. He is making a special trip to attend the dinner.

The Legion Club room will accommodate only about one hundred and twenty diners. Any citizen of Narberth may attend the dinner. Tickets may be had from members of the Post, particularly from Vice Commander A. Perry Redifer, who is in charge of ticket distribution. The general chairman in charge of the Dinner Committee is Senior Vice Commander Charles Greyer. John C. Nash, in charge of entertainment, has promised a program of music and community singing. Dr. LeRoy A. King, of Shirley Road, Narberth, will be at the speakers' table to introduce the main speaker of the evening.

"Harvest Home" Thursday

The King's Daughters and Sons of Pennsylvania will hold a "Harvest Home" for the Home for the Aged, 10 Sabine Avenue, Narberth, all day on Thursday, November 12. Inspection of the home is invited on that day. Lunch will be served and a White Elephant sale will be in progress. Donations of any kind for the home will be gratefully received.

Red Cross Roll Call Opens Armistice Day

The American Red Cross is fifty years strong. Headed by the President of United States and chartered by Congress, there is a contributing membership of four million senior persons to sustain the beginning of the second half of a century of service to humanity. A stated time from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving has been set aside annually for the public to renew its allegiance to this great work which is so dependent upon the renewals of memberships.

Last year Narberth contributed over one thousand dollars. Although the working of the local campaign is largely carried on by the Women's Community Club, the assistance of any man or woman will be cheerfully accepted.

Prior to Armistice Day the Boy Scouts will distribute literature throughout the town as a reminder of the Roll Call. The Divisional Chairmen, known as "Lieutenants" are: Mrs. H. G. Reeve, Miss Emma Mueller, Mrs. E. A. Lane, Mrs. W. J. Odiorne, Mrs. C. H. Woolmington, Mrs. E. B. Clark, Mrs. R. M. Staley, Mrs. J. D. Sutherland and Mrs. W. Russell Green. The stores will be cared for by Postmaster J. B. Nesper, and the Red Cross stand in the Post Office Building will be in charge of Mrs. Horace E. Ruch. Mrs. J. R. Aiken and Mrs. H. A. Jacobs are acting as general chairmen.

The names of the workers according to streets will appear in the next issue of this paper. If each house will be prepared for their solicitors it will greatly expedite the work and assist those who are so willing give their time to the cause.
